

CV of Invited Faculty

	Hsiang-Ju Pan
Position	Chief of Community Medicine Division, Assistant Professor Attending Physicians
Department, Affiliation	Family Medicine Department, Kaohsiung Veteran General Hospital
Major Field	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Preventive Medicine ● Obesity management ● Hospice care
Professional Activities: (Career or membership)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Kaohsiung Veteran General Hospital attending physician ● Supervisor of the Taiwan Medical Association for the Study of Obesity (TMASO) ● St. Luke's hospital New Obesity Center visiting scholar ● Member of Taiwan association of Family Medicine
Short Bio (in 150 words):	Dr. Pan graduated from the Medical Department of China Medical University and holds a Master's degree in Public Health from Kaohsiung Medical University. Dr. Pan's expertise includes obesity management, palliative care, community medicine, and preventive medicine. Over the years, she has led numerous initiatives to improve community health and has been recognized for her contributions to advancing public health practices. Dr. Pan is committed to enhancing healthcare quality and accessibility for all.

The information will be shown on the website and conference materials only.