

CV of Invited Faculty

	Hiroshi ARIMA
Position	Professor
Department, Affiliation	Department of Endocrinology and Diabetes, Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine
Major Field	Neuroendocrinology
Professional Activities: (Career or membership)	2015 - Professor of the Department of Endocrinology and Diabetes, Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine 2021 - President of the Japan Endocrine Society (JES) 2022 - President of the Japan Neuroendocrine Society (JNS) 2021 - Board member of the International Society of Endocrinology
Short Bio (in 150 words):	Dr. Hiroshi Arima graduated from Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine in 1988. After working in hospitals as a physician for several years, he started research in neuroendocrinology at Nagoya University. He stayed at the National Institutes of Health in the USA as a postdoctoral fellow from 1998 to 2001. He became the professor at Nagoya University Graduate School of Medicine in 2015. While he specializes in water and energy balance, he has been also leading the prospective study of immune check point inhibitors related endocrinopathy at the Nagoya University Hospital. He has been the President of the Japan Endocrine Society as well as the Japan Neuroendocrine Society. Several guidelines for pituitary diseases were published under his leadership.

The information will be shown on the website and conference materials only.