

CV of Invited Faculty

Daham KIM

Position	Assistant Professor
Department, Affiliation	Department of Internal Medicine, Yonsei University College of Medicine
Major Field	Thyroid, Endocrinology
Professional Activities: (Career or membership)	Lifetime Member, Korean Endocrine Society Lifetime Member, Korean Diabetes Association Lifetime Member, Korean Thyroid Association Lifetime Member, Korean Society of Osteoporosis Lifetime Member, Korean Society of Clinical Ultrasound Secretary, Committee of International Liaison, Korean Endocrine Society (2023-2026) Member, Committee of Research, Korean Endocrine Society (2023-2026) Vice-Secretary General, Korean Endocrine Society (2025-2026)
Short Bio (in 150 words):	Dr. Daham Kim is an Assistant Professor in the Division of Endocrinology and Metabolism at Yonsei University College of Medicine in Seoul, Korea. He completed his MD and PhD degrees at Yonsei University College of Medicine and underwent endocrinology training at Severance Hospital. Instead of serving in the military, he worked as a Physician-Scientist at the Avison Biomedical Research Center. His primary research and clinical interests lie in thyroid diseases, including autoimmune thyroid diseases and thyroid nodules. Additionally, he is the secretary of the Committee of International Liaison and a member of the Committee of Research of the Korean Endocrine Society.

The information will be shown on the website and conference materials only.