

CV of Invited Faculty

Cheol Ryong KU

Position	Professor
Department, Affiliation	Department of Internal Medicine, Yonsei University College of Medicine
Major Field	Neuroendocrine Tumor, Pituitary Tumor, Obesity, Diabetes
Professional Activities: (Career or membership)	03/2009 – 04/2012 Medical Officer, Military Manpower Administration 05/2012 – 02/2014 Fellowship, Endocrinology, Severance Hospital, Yonsei University College of Medicine 03/2014 – 02/2015 Clinical Physician, Endocrinology, Severance Hospital, Yonsei University College of Medicine 03/2015 – 02/2023 Clinical Associate Professor, Endocrinology, Severance Hospital, Yonsei University College of Medicine 03/2023 – 02/2025 Associate Professor, Endocrinology, Severance Hospital, Yonsei University College of Medicine 03/2023 – 02/2025 Professor, Endocrinology, Severance Hospital, Yonsei University College of Medicine
Short Bio (in 150 words):	Dr. Cheol Ryong Ku is a professor of Severance Hospital Pituitary Tumor Center at Yonsei University College of Medicine, Seoul, South Korea. It is the biggest pituitary tumor center in South Korea. He is the major member of Korean neuroendocrine study group supported by Korean Endocrine Society. Dr Ku earned a Ph.D. in medicine from Yonsei University College of Medicine, of which the thesis was generation of acromegaly animal model through somatotroph specific AIP knock out mice. His research focused on biomarkers associated with therapeutic responsiveness in patients with pituitary tumors.

*The information will be shown on the website and conference materials only.