

CV of Invited Faculty

Minna WOO

Position

Director

Department, Affiliation

Banting and Best Diabetes Centre, University of Toronto

Major Field

Molecular diabetes research

Professional Activities: (Career or membership)

Professor of Medicine and Immunology, University of Toronto
 Staff Endocrinologist, Toronto General Hospital, University Health Network

Short Bio (in 150 words):

Dr. Minna Woo is the Director of the Banting and Best Diabetes Centre at the University of Toronto and the Ajmera Chair in Molecular Diabetes Research at the Toronto General Hospital Research Institute. She is a clinician scientist and a staff endocrinologist at the Toronto General Hospital, University Health Network and a Professor in the Departments of Medicine and Immunology at the University of Toronto. Her research focuses on molecular mechanisms that determine the pathogenesis of insulin resistance and related diseases using preclinical models. She has published over 100 research articles and her research is internationally recognized as a member elect of the American Society of Clinical Investigation. She currently serves as a member of the NIDDK-led Global Coalition on Heterogeneity of Diabetes Working Group.

The information will be shown on the website and conference materials only.